Venture deep into the heart of Yellowhead County—one of Alberta’s most untamed and sparsely populated areas—and claim your own off-grid playground. Towering old-growth forest surrounds a crystal-clear creek that winds across the land, feeding a pristine 2+ acre pond alive with wildlife. About 40 acres of once-open pasture are now being reclaimed by nature with stands of 6–10 ft trees, creating a rare blend of meadow and forest. With no buildings to limit your vision, this is pure, rugged wilderness ready for your cabin, campsite or back-to-nature escape. Power poles and a natural gas line run through the property for when you’re ready to plug back in. Driveway easement possible on adjacent driveway. Adjacent homestead with 14+ acres is also currently listed and available E4452325.
